HE DROPS BY SHOT.

But First Shoots Two Others.

Drug-Crazed Los Angeles Man Tries to Kill His Relatives.

Wounds Brother-in-Law and Niece, and His Nephew Uses a Rifle.

Tragedy at Burbank, and Its Author Now in the Hospital Here.

My uncle was coming at father and me with a big club. He was making great leaps in the air and flourishing the club as he ran. Father was bleeding from a wound from uncle's revolver, and my sister lay wounded in the house. When uncle was about ten yards away, I leveled my rifle and fired. He came right on, only leaping the madder. When he was ten feet from us, I fired again—point blank. Uncle did not fall, but suddenly veered and made a circle around us, still leaping into the air like a demon. I saw the neighbors rush up and grapple with him. Sickened by what I had done, I went into the house. When I came out again, he was tied up—hands and feet—on the porch by William Stancliff of Burbank, after shooting his murderous uncle.

In a fit of sudden and murderous frenzy, Fred Strader, a ne'er-do-weel, tried to kill his sister's entire family on the Stancliff ranch near Burbank yesterday afternoon. After wounding two members of the family, he was shot down by his young nephew just as he was rushing back to the ranch-house to finish, with a club, the murderous work he had begun with a revolver.

The boy, William Stancliff, stood at a corner of the house and "potted" his uncle with a 22-caliber rifle as coolly as one might have shot a ferocious mountain animal. Although Strader stood in the ranch-house kitchen and fired impartially and at close range at every one entering the room, there were no fatalities.

He shot his brother-in-law, Alpha Stancliff, in the forehead with a 22-caliber revolver, but the bullet ran around the surface of the skull under the skin and came out at the back of the head.

Ruth Stancliff, his niece, he shot in the thigh—not a dangerous wound. He missed his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Stancliff, altogether—by something like a miracle.

Strader himself was shot through the rim of the ear by his nephew, the bullet lodging in the mastoid cell. The boy also beat him on the head with a chair, inflicting several nasty scalp wounds.

TRUANCY COSTS LIFE.

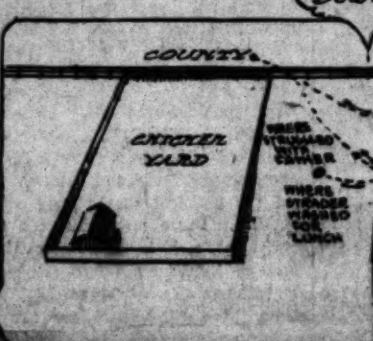

Salvation Army Lasses Out Late Falls from Ladder as She Is Climbing to Room.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Returning to their barracks early today after being out without leave, Hannah Matthews and Eva Wells, two Salvation Army girls, found the doors locked against them and a tragedy followed. Fearing the reproval of the woman lieutenant if they knocked for admission, the girls climbed a ladder leading to a scullie to cross the roofs to the Salvation Army barracks.

Hannah Matthews' foot slipped on the top rung of the ladder and she fell who shot his insane uncle (top picture) Strader, the uncle, and George Dewey, the arresting officer. The diagram shows the scene of the shooting at the Stancliff ranch. Strader entered the kitchen where Mrs. Stancliff was working. Mrs. Stancliff entered from the back bedroom and was shot down. Dotted line shows where Strader fled behind the chicken coop and returned with a club. The end of the line shows where he was overpowered by ranchers after being shot.

to the floor below, breaking her neck, killing herself instantly. Eva Wells said that she and the Matthews girl had frequently climbed to the roof of the adjoining tenements and crossed the roofs to their own shelter.

SITUATION DISHEARTENING.

Brazilian Republic Is Six Million Dollars in Debt and Foreign Obligations Growing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A letter received here from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, gives a gloomy picture of the financial and economic situation. According to the writer of this letter, the budget estimates of the republic show a deficit of $6,000,000, while the foreign debt is increasing enormously. The conditions in the coffee-growing districts, the writer declares, are becoming worse. Production will increase, especially as the trees planted during the years of prosperity begin to yield.

Meanwhile, the writer concludes, the cost of life in Brazil is daily growing higher because of the severe taxes, and famine is spreading in the northern provinces.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Harry K. Thaw was insane at the time of the killing of Stanford White; that he was still insane when the defense's alienists first examined him in the Tombs, six weeks later; that through the period of their visits he gradually but steadily improved in mind, and that (by implication) he is today sane and sound of brain, was definitely outlined as the defense's formal plea, when Dr. Branton D. Evans, alienist, took and held the stand today.

Fortifying this plea, as always, are the other basis of the defense—justification and the right of every man to protect his life against supposed danger or threat from another man.

In the light of today's evidence these two may be regarded as anchored to bedrock.

EVANS'S OPINION. The opinion of Dr. Evans, upon which the defense relies, was that "during the first three weeks of the examinations, in August and September, Harry K. Thaw was of unsound mind, because of a diseased condition of the brain, that during the last five weeks his mental condition and the integrity or stability of his mind was still impaired but somewhat improved over the condition found in the former visits, that this was a gradual, not a rapid improvement, and that his positive derangement of mind was the result of a hereditary predisposition and additional exciting causes, in order of stress, strains, and ordeal of mind, causing brainstorm, mental explosion, or outburst of mind manifestation, which left its traces behind it."

Translated into the terms which the trial has made familiar, this, in its direct application, means that in the alienist's opinion Harry K. Thaw's mind—naturally prone, through ancestral taint, to unsoundness—became unbalanced because of his hatred for Stanford White, and that the resultant insanity drove him to kill White, since when he has been gradually reverting to sanity.

EVANS'S OPERATION. Though not in the way of formal evidence, a statement was made today by Dist. Atty. Jerome, which settles the mooted question as to the nature of the operation performed upon Evelyn Nesbit when she was at school in New Jersey.

The operation was for appendicitis. Rumor has insisted that it was for a different sort, performed at the instruction of Dr. Austitz, who said nothing but that the pair had tried to murder him, and that their grievance was a fancied one. Crowsfield would say nothing at all.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Hannah Jensen, 26 years old, is under arrest, ill and hysterical at the Presbyterian Hospital. Dr. Marion W. Austitz, 30 years old, a leading physician of Harlem, whom she tried to kill, and Charles A. Crowsfield, a young draughtsman, her sweetheart, are prisoners. Back of these facts is a story similar to the White-Nesbit-Thaw affair.

It is alleged that Miss Jensen went to the office of Dr. Austitz late last night accompanied by Crowsfield, who, when the doctor came in, handed her a revolver and said: "Now kill me."

The girl raised the weapon with trembling hand and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge failed to explode. The doctor yelled for help, and Policeman Ferrell broke in, knocked the pistol from the girl's grasp and took the three to the police station.

Miss Jensen and Crowsfield have been sweethearts for a long time. It is said they were engaged to be married. The young man called last night at the girl's home, and they discussed their plans, the ring, the minister, the little fat and all. But suddenly a cloud overshadowed the woman's face and she burst into tears.

PLEA OUT AT LAST.

Thaw Was Insane, Now Is Well.

Defense Formally Outlined by Testimony of Expert Alienist Evans.

Head of New Jersey Asylum Offers Important Evidence for Accused.

Slayer of White Nervous and Loath to Hear—Attorneys Clash.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] DELMAS, the California lawyer defending Thaw, had his first serious clash with Dist. Atty. Jerome yesterday.

Jerome denounced what he alleged was an attempt to instill a wrong idea into the minds of the jury as to an operation performed on Evelyn Thaw.

Delmás demanded that his emphatic protest against the "misconduct of the learned District Attorney" be entered in the records.

Dr. Evans, an expert alienist, declared he believed Thaw was insane at the time of the shooting. He gave many reasons for his opinion.

The testimony of Dr. Evans established the plea of defense, the primary contention being that Thaw was insane at the time of the shooting, but that he now has recovered.

It developed yesterday that Thaw once lost large sums of money in games with noted millionaires.

After a meeting of the President and Postmaster-General Cortelyou, it was decided that the government could not, under the law, suppress verbatim newspaper reports of the trial.

RESENT GRAFT CHARGES.

Insurance Officers Resign, and Ask Company to Sue Them for Alleged "Take-off."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following testimony before the State Auditor that each of them had received a "take-off" of $55,000 when the State Life Insurance Company purchased the Stevenson building from the Churchman heirs, Pres. Andrew M. Swenson and Vice-Pres. Samuel Quinn tonight resigned from the company and their resignations were accepted.

In the letter submitting their resignations they asked that the board of directors file suit at once for the recovery of the alleged commissions, in order that the truth or falsity of the charge might be investigated in a court of justice where witnesses could be compelled to testify and the testimony of absent witnesses taken by deposition.

WANTS WEDLOCK PROBATIONARY.

IOWA BILL MAKES MARRIAGE RE-NEWABLE CONTRACT.

Measure Is Suggested Which Fixes Five Years as Term of Indissoluble Union Giving Option Then of Continuance or Quittance of Marital Obligations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] DES MOINES (Iowa), Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A marriage on trial law is proposed for the statute books of Iowa at this session of the Legislature. A bill providing for trial marriages will be introduced before the Legislature adjourns, if present plans do not miscarry, and its enactment into law will be urged by some of the prominent members of the body.

The bill will provide that a marriage contract may be entered into by a man and a woman for a period of five years and that at the end of the five years the husband and wife may renew the contract if they so desire.

Many members of the Legislature are giving the question of marriage on trial serious study and the Legislature has made an appropriation to secure a copy of the trial marriage bill which was recently introduced in the South Dakota Legislature.

PEACEFULLY HE PASSES HENCE.

EX-GOV. HIGGINS OF NEW YORK DIES AT OLEAN.

End Came to Him Free of All Pain—Discharged His Duties Despite Warning of Physicians—Even Assisted in Inauguration of Successor When Ill.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.] OLEAN (N. Y.), Feb. 12.—Former Gov. Frank W. Higgins died at 3:40 o'clock p.m. He remained unconscious to the last, death coming in his most peaceful form, and free from pain.

Higgins for years had been afflicted by heart trouble. After he entered upon his work as Governor he was warned by physicians of a serious organic difficulty in the heart, but no effort was relaxed and no duty left unperformed which Higgins believed essential to the faithful discharge of the trust reposed in him by the people.

When the only official duty which remained was to assist in the inauguration of his successor as Governor, he firmly resisted the importunities of his family, his friends, and declining to spare himself, went to Albany to take part in the ceremonies.

This last act hastened his death by precipitating symptoms which otherwise might have been forestalled.

IS NOT ANXIOUS FOR TARIFF WAR.

BUT GERMANY WON'T STAND ANY MORE, SHE SAYS.

Possibility of Reciprocity Treaty With United States Excites Much Favorable Interest Among Commercial Organizations of Berlin. Ceaseless of Unpleasantness.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BERLIN, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reports as to the possibility of a tariff treaty with the United States continue to elicit comment, disclosing that the influential element in Germany's commercial world strongly desires to get America into a conciliatory spirit.

"Germany has not asked for great concessions in the form of reductions of duties in specific cases," said a representative of a prominent commercial organization today. "The principal demand is that tariff provisions shall be fair and liberal and that customs inspection shall be freed from the annoying and arbitrary practices common heretofore."

"Germany makes no demands involving a radical revision or reopening of the entire tariff question. It wants especially the mitigation of the present exasperating practices whereby German exporters find the adjudication of value and classification of their goods beset with difficulties, largely through the interference of agents interested in American manufacture."

EXCLUDES ASIATICS.

Japan Consents If Name of Race Is Omitted from New Statute.

President Prepares for Final Talk With the Slope Educators.

Speaker Agrees to Aid in the Passage of Immigration Legislation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Exclusion of Japanese coolies by an act of Congress similar to that which prevents the entrance of Chinese, is now suggested as a final solution of the problem which has puzzled the President and aroused the people of the Pacific Coast.

The basis on which exclusion shall be arranged, its scope and effect, the machinery for its enforcement and its acceptance by the government of Japan, has been developed by the President and Secretary Root, a trained lawyer and diplomat, has drawn up the proposition which is expected to restore peace and tranquillity between the United States and Japan and appease the citizens of California.

Root's plan provides for the exclusion from the United States and all her insular possessions, of "Asiatic coolies" which will be construed to include Chinese, Japanese, Malays and all other Orientals.

Root's plan provides for the exclusion from the United States and all her insular possessions, of "Asiatic coolies" which will be construed to include Chinese, Japanese, Malays and all other Orientals.

The exact wording of the proposition was cabled to Tokyo and a reply was received that the exclusion of Asiatic coolies would not be objectionable to Japan, provided that the phrase "Asiatic coolies" be not employed, and also that the San Francisco school difficulties are first satisfactorily adjusted.

Immediately following the conference at the White House last Saturday the President and Secretary Root took up the task of perfecting a satisfactory compromise. Ambassador Aoki was made a party to the negotiations.

There have been many exchanges between this city and Tokyo. All them have been sent and received through the Japanese Embassy here. Ambassador Aoki and Secretary Root have held no conference, but have had correspondence with each other.

The proposition for settling the question by some form of exclusion is, according to the present plans, to be offered as an amendment to the Immigration Bill passed at the last session of Congress and still in conference.

The conferees will be asked to incorporate this amendment, and in this way it will receive early consideration both in the Senate and House, a conference report being always provided.

Mayor Schmitts and his associates said tonight that they have been advised that some basis of agreement had been arranged and that they believe the conference tomorrow will be a final and conclusive one. Schmitts said the plan had not been indicated to him but nothing short of exclusion would prove acceptable.

HOISTED FLAG WRONG WAY.

MOB VIOLENCE THREATENS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Japanese Daily World had a close call from mob violence today when a recently imported janitor took liberties with the American flag. He hoisted the Stars and Stripes upside down. The flag was soon seen by a man working on the Geary-street car line. He gave the alarm, and a crowd of several hundred people collected, filled the street, and many others began to run toward the place where a police officer appeared, sought the janitor and had the error rectified.

As the ensign went up in its proper place a cheer arose, the crowd broke into smiles, and the incident was forgotten.

KAHN DESCRIBES JAPS.

TELLS BOSTONERS OF SITUATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.] BOSTON, Feb. 12.—Julius Kahn, member of Congress from California, delivered an address before the Middlesex Club of this city tonight in which he discussed the Japanese question.

Kahn in opening said there is no antagonism in California to the Japanese of the better class, such as scholars, professional men, bankers and merchants, on the Pacific Coast. "The opposition is entirely directed against the coolie or laboring class," said Kahn, "and I say frankly that the Japanese coolie is much more feared in California than is his meek, docile, childlike and bland counterpart from the vicinity of Canton."

Thousands Experience Intense Suffering from Wave of Zero Weather. Pitiful Case of Woman Found in Doorway—Her Case May Be Fatal, It Is Thought.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three persons were frozen to death, several were found unconscious, and many thousands suffered intensely from a wave of zero weather which swept into and out of New York today.

Most pitiful of all the cases of exposure was that of a woman who was found in the doorway of a saloon at Fourteenth street and Sixth avenue. She had crept into such shelter as the doorway afforded, and was so huddled up in her scanty clothes, when Police-man Koch of the West Thirty-seventh street station discovered her, that at first he thought it was a bundle of old clothes.

With difficulty, he revived her so that she could mumble through colorless lips that her name was Jennie Bradley, 60 years old, and that she had no home. She was taken to Bellevue Hospital and it was said tonight she would probably reach her last home within a few hours.

Neither of the men who were dead when found have been identified. Weak from exposure, another man who has not been identified, fell in a snow bank at Third avenue and Sixty-fifth street and died before an ambulance from the Presbyterian Hospital arrived.

CURIOUS FAMILY.

Coffee Ruined Them.

A lady writes how coffee treated her family.

"I was born of a sick-headache family," she says; "my father, English by birth, loved his beef and plum pudding, and every rich dish that could be brought on the table and always drank coffee."

"Associated with my earliest memories is the picture of my father, at times walking the floor, his head bandaged, his face drawn with pain, and his eyes rolling as in a delirium. He suffered this every few weeks. His brother was similarly afflicted, as was also their sister."

"I have had many ailments, which I can now see were properly chargeable to the coffee I drank. I am 63 years old, and for the last half of my life have been a sufferer from kidney troubles and extreme nervousness, often tossing about till 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning. My general health suffered, of course, and along with everything else was the constantly recurring agonies of sick headache."

contending that under its terms no appeal would result in placing a defendant twice in jeopardy.

In defending the bill, Senator Patterson said the Senate Judiciary Committee eliminated from the House bill each point which had been the basis of a complaint by Rayner.

Senator Spooner said he could discover no constitutional question in the bill.

There is a double vote on our legislation. First, the President can veto a bill. We can get over that by passing it over his veto. Then the court can veto and we have no way of getting over that. This question simply is whether we will allow our efforts to curb the trusts to be handicapped by a judge of an inferior court."

HERGET SAYS DRAW BATTLE.

Jim Flynn and Sullivan Go Twenty Rounds.

Fight Proves as Good as Former Meeting.

One Is Aggressive and the Other Is Clever.

Jim Flynn and Jack (Twin) Sullivan fought twenty rounds to a draw battle, last night, before the Pacific Athletic Club.

Referee Gus Herget's decision pleased the majority of the crowd. Others were divided in opinion as to the merits of the two fighters.

Flynn was the aggressor throughout the fight and he was the better of the rough work. Sullivan was by far the cleverer of the two and landed the cleaner blows. On scientific ruling, he had a shade the best of the fight.

Sullivan at first made a strong protest, but reconsidered the matter and after conferring with his corner decided to accept the referee's decision.

Flynn showed great improvement in blocking and protecting his jaw from punishment. Not until toward the middle of the fight was Sullivan able to create over those right jabs or uppercuts, and then he did not land nearly so many blows as in the former battle.

Flynn claims to have hurt both hands in the first and second rounds. At the close of the contest his seconds had to remove the tape by cutting the hands were so badly swollen. He says this was a factor in the outcome of the fight. Few could see that it made any difference for Jim made a rushing contest of it.

FLYNN A WHIRLWIND.
The Posh boy was a whirlwind in aggressiveness. When he rushed and roughed it he carried Sullivan off his feet, but the latter showed he was managed to avoid serious punishment each time by blocking and stalling.

Sullivan put up a great battle, and it was only Flynn's strength and courage that kept some of his left jab, right jab, and three uppercuts to the body. Flynn absorbed all the punishment handed out and never took a backward step throughout the fight. He kept coming in all the time and on many occasions landed hard blows on Sullivan's head and body.

Flynn scored the only knock-down of the battle in the second round when he landed a sharp series of jabs and sent Sullivan to his knees. Neither man showed much sign of injury, though each carried a bruise on the forehead. Flynn opened a cut on Sullivan's left eye, the blood flowing in a slow trickle throughout the latter half of the fight. Jack and Jim spat blood on several occasions as he went to his corner.

Neither man showed enough superiority to warrant claims of being the better fighter, and another battle must be arranged between them. At no time during the fight did either man have a decided advantage. The tide of success fluctuated rapidly, first to one man and then to another, but matters were always evened up in a succeeding period.

Sullivan showed himself a master at the blocking game, while Flynn was good enough to prevent much punishment. He was a master at the blocking game, while Flynn was good enough to prevent much punishment. He was a master at the blocking game, while Flynn was good enough to prevent much punishment.

The story of one or two rounds is the story of the battle. Sullivan was not an idle moment. They mixed it fiercely and hit as hard and as often as possible. Sullivan's best blow was a right uppercut to the jaw, which he varied with left jabs to the face and right jabs to the side of the head, and a left to the body.

McGOVERN A SLUGGER.
"Sluggo" McGovern did not break the nose of "Frisco Kid" Parker, so the battle had to be stopped in the fifth round, but he landed a bonk in his left hand in walloping the Kid on the head. It was a disastrous battle for both boys, and the only good accomplished was to show men conclusively that Young McGovern is a slugger of the first order.

At no time in the fight did the Sluggo stand a chance to lose. Parker was clever, but had no chance to stay away from McGovern's terrific swings. In the second round the Sluggo landed an overhanded right swing on the bridge of the nose. He landed again at the opening of the third round, and Parker's seconds then threw up the sponge.

McGovern weighs but 165 pounds, and with proper technique could do good damage of going to the top of the division.

Two jockeys, Kerry Patch and Kid Hewitt, boxed to a draw in the first preliminary. Hewitt was the larger, and really had the better of the fight, but he used round tactics and came into disfavor with the crowd and the referee, Tommy Walsh. At the end of the fifth round, Walsh thought the fight was over and gave the decision to Hewitt, but the tally sheet showed that there was another round coming and the boys were told to fight it out. Patch labored to get good effect and the crowd's demands were so persistent that the decision was received with great cheers.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Feb. 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Young Fitzgerald overdid it tonight in his efforts to save himself for Friday's fight with Kid Murphy of New York, which was scheduled for the heavyweight championship. Jimmy Coulon of Chicago went after the Milwaukee boy and fairly whipped him in the last three rounds of a ten round go.

Though neither boy scored a knock-down, it was evident that Coulon had completely outgeneraled Fitzgerald, and that he was a much better fighter. Coulon, though the fight was in the center of the district where Fitz is all but adored.

ST. VINCENT'S BASEBALL.
Catholics Depend on Their Team to Win Honors in Athletics This Season.

Baseball is holding first place at St. Vincent's. Capt. McCann had his men out for a little preliminary work Tuesday and judging from all appearances the Catholics intend to try and sweep everything before them this season.

Last year they lost the championship to Occidental by a very close margin, this being the first time in the last six years that the team has not given the walls of that institution.

Haggerty has some fine material to build from to put up the vacation team by the old men who quit last year. He still has of last year's team, Lamer, McCann, Cunningham, and others. The Catholics of which all are well known in amateur baseball circles. Lamer will play in all probability have charge of the short field. He is steady and fast, covers a lot of ground, and is good with the stick. McCann will play on third, his old position. Cunningham will play the center garden in all probability, as he held that position on last year's team. Phillips, the big-handed pitcher, will twirl again this year, while Sudgrass and Schildwader will be behind the plate.

This bunch of old players will make a good foundation upon which the Saints have great hopes of building a crack team. Those who have reported for practice, so far, are McCann, Phillips, Cunningham, Fick, Lamer, Schildwader, Sudgrass, and others.

Hartness, Winne, Brannen, Stenn, O'Malley, Bourg, Dueter, O'Neil, Williams, O'Rourke, Yabumino, Brummon, Bantanchury, Curran and Workman.

ST. VINCENT'S BASEBALL.
Catholics Depend on Their Team to Win Honors in Athletics This Season.

Baseball is holding first place at St. Vincent's. Capt. McCann had his men out for a little preliminary work Tuesday and judging from all appearances the Catholics intend to try and sweep everything before them this season.

Last year they lost the championship to Occidental by a very close margin, this being the first time in the last six years that the team has not given the walls of that institution.

Haggerty has some fine material to build from to put up the vacation team by the old men who quit last year. He still has of last year's team, Lamer, McCann, Cunningham, and others. The Catholics of which all are well known in amateur baseball circles. Lamer will play in all probability have charge of the short field. He is steady and fast, covers a lot of ground, and is good with the stick. McCann will play on third, his old position. Cunningham will play the center garden in all probability, as he held that position on last year's team. Phillips, the big-handed pitcher, will twirl again this year, while Sudgrass and Schildwader will be behind the plate.

This bunch of old players will make a good foundation upon which the Saints have great hopes of building a crack team. Those who have reported for practice, so far, are McCann, Phillips, Cunningham, Fick, Lamer, Schildwader, Sudgrass, and others.

Hartness, Winne, Brannen, Stenn, O'Malley, Bourg, Dueter, O'Neil, Williams, O'Rourke, Yabumino, Brummon, Bantanchury, Curran and Workman.

Flynn showed great improvement in blocking and protecting his jaw from punishment. Not until toward the middle of the fight was Sullivan able to create over those right jabs or uppercuts, and then he did not land nearly so many blows as in the former battle.

Flynn claims to have hurt both hands in the first and second rounds. At the close of the contest his seconds had to remove the tape by cutting the hands were so badly swollen. He says this was a factor in the outcome of the fight. Few could see that it made any difference for Jim made a rushing contest of it.

FLYNN A WHIRLWIND.
The Posh boy was a whirlwind in aggressiveness. When he rushed and roughed it he carried Sullivan off his feet, but the latter showed he was managed to avoid serious punishment each time by blocking and stalling.

Sullivan put up a great battle, and it was only Flynn's strength and courage that kept some of his left jab, right jab, and three uppercuts to the body. Flynn absorbed all the punishment handed out and never took a backward step throughout the fight. He kept coming in all the time and on many occasions landed hard blows on Sullivan's head and body.

Flynn scored the only knock-down of the battle in the second round when he landed a sharp series of jabs and sent Sullivan to his knees. Neither man showed much sign of injury, though each carried a bruise on the forehead. Flynn opened a cut on Sullivan's left eye, the blood flowing in a slow trickle throughout the latter half of the fight. Jack and Jim spat blood on several occasions as he went to his corner.

Neither man showed enough superiority to warrant claims of being the better fighter, and another battle must be arranged between them. At no time during the fight did either man have a decided advantage. The tide of success fluctuated rapidly, first to one man and then to another, but matters were always evened up in a succeeding period.

Sullivan showed himself a master at the blocking game, while Flynn was good enough to prevent much punishment. He was a master at the blocking game, while Flynn was good enough to prevent much punishment. He was a master at the blocking game, while Flynn was good enough to prevent much punishment.

The story of one or two rounds is the story of the battle. Sullivan was not an idle moment. They mixed it fiercely and hit as hard and as often as possible. Sullivan's best blow was a right uppercut to the jaw, which he varied with left jabs to the face and right jabs to the side of the head, and a left to the body.

McGOVERN A SLUGGER.
"Sluggo" McGovern did not break the nose of "Frisco Kid" Parker, so the battle had to be stopped in the fifth round, but he landed a bonk in his left hand in walloping the Kid on the head. It was a disastrous battle for both boys, and the only good accomplished was to show men conclusively that Young McGovern is a slugger of the first order.

At no time in the fight did the Sluggo stand a chance to lose. Parker was clever, but had no chance to stay away from McGovern's terrific swings. In the second round the Sluggo landed an overhanded right swing on the bridge of the nose. He landed again at the opening of the third round, and Parker's seconds then threw up the sponge.

McGovern weighs but 165 pounds, and with proper technique could do good damage of going to the top of the division.

Two jockeys, Kerry Patch and Kid Hewitt, boxed to a draw in the first preliminary. Hewitt was the larger, and really had the better of the fight, but he used round tactics and came into disfavor with the crowd and the referee, Tommy Walsh. At the end of the fifth round, Walsh thought the fight was over and gave the decision to Hewitt, but the tally sheet showed that there was another round coming and the boys were told to fight it out. Patch labored to get good effect and the crowd's demands were so persistent that the decision was received with great cheers.

WAITED TOO LONG.
Fitzgerald is BEATEN.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Feb. 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Young Fitzgerald overdid it tonight in his efforts to save himself for Friday's fight with Kid Murphy of New York, which was scheduled for the heavyweight championship. Jimmy Coulon of Chicago went after the Milwaukee boy and fairly whipped him in the last three rounds of a ten round go.

Though neither boy scored a knock-down, it was evident that Coulon had completely outgeneraled Fitzgerald, and that he was a much better fighter. Coulon, though the fight was in the center of the district where Fitz is all but adored.

HIGH REVELRY BEFORE LENT.

Society's First Real Mardi Gras Ball Here.

Dainty Buds, Gay Bachelors, Brilliant Whirl.

Girl of Wild West Among the Sensations.

BY KATHERINE THOMPSON.

Los Angeles had her first real Mardi Gras Ball last night.

For the nonce, exclusive society cast aside its robes of dignity, donned the brave garments of high revelry and hid its face behind a masque.

Today they may do penance, but last night it was not yet Lent. It was the last chance to yield to the reign of folly, for forty days to come, and with the spirit of Farfadets, beautiful matrons, dainty buds and gay bachelors flung themselves into the whirl of the most brilliant, the most surpassingly bizarre and gorgeous affair of the season—the fifth and last of the Assembly Balls.

Gay harlequins flitted with romantic young Julietts, and Spanish cavaliers made merry with coquettish Columbine lasses. All frolicked in the reckless spirit of the carnival.

Kramer's Hall shone resplendent in its gala of Mardi Gras. Never before was it quite so cleverly decked. From the dome in the ceiling were strung many electric lights, each covered with a double masque; from here also radiated gauze streamers of red, yellow and green. Anemones plumed with with masques was flung to the far corners of the room. Masques, masques everywhere! Above the lights, shading them, were masques; and great grinning clowns' faces, from which flew many toy balloons, were about the walls. Over the mirrors the same faces grinned and balloons sailed.

All about the room were strung harlequin collars to be broken over the heads of the merry-makers. They were made of tissue paper, every shade imaginable.

The balcony was draped in Roman fashion, with rich tapestries, garlanded with bright flowers and small clowns' faces. The balcony behind was exceedingly inviting with its small trees and potted plants and ferns, and here the dancers rested.

Below stairs, where a Lucullan supper was served, the room was arranged to imitate a Roman pergola garden. Palm trees supported an airy mass of smilax and white columns preserved the charming simplicity.

Supper was given in the French fashion from small tables arranged at intervals in the pergola. The tables were wreathed with violets, midst which were set nodding bouquets of golden jonquils.

Music floated from behind a screen of palms over the jolly scene, and at intervals a calcium light cast a bright glow on the throng.

One of the jolliest bits of the evening was the snowball scene, which took place just before supper. From the ceiling fell a snowstorm, whirled by an electric fan in a thousand flakes over the gay assemblage. Then snowballs came and the whole jolly crowd pelted each other right gayly, girls and men alike, until the place was in a huge uproar.

Then to supper marched the breathless throng. Confetti bags were passed later and then the merriment grew apace, with harlequin collars, confetti and snow.

Strikingly pretty were the costumes worn by the maids and matrons, and some were costly.

One of the most beautiful of all was Mrs. Randolph Miner, the good fairy of the ball, for as head patroness she really had much to do with the success of the affair. Mrs. Miner represented the Duchess of Devonshire, and was extremely lovely, crowned in a sweeping Empire frock of pale pink satin, adorned with exquisite pearls and cameos. Her hair was powdered and done in the puffed fashion of that time, surmounted by the huge picture hat of black velvet and plumes, which Gainsborough made famous.

Mrs. Hugh Stewart presented one of the loveliest pictures clad in violet silk with dainty apron caught with violets and hair wreathed with the violet blossoms. On her arm, a basket of the fragrant blossoms, for she was a "violet seller."

Her sister, Miss Katherine Graves, is one of the most regular girls of the city. She was "My Lady Nicotine." Who can gainsay that she is popular, for the ruffe of her odd costume was made of cigar bands, gathered by admiring suitors. There must have been a thousand there. The belt was made of cigar bands, and the skirt of petrie of crepe paper and the color of tobacco. A dash of yellow made the costume most becoming.

Charlotte Workman was an Empire girl, with gown of pale pink crepe adorned with hand painted roses. Powdered hair and a great picture hat. Miss Gertrude Workman, that bright little debutante, was a lovely Evangeline clad in pale blue with rolling collar, demure cap and laced bodice.

THE WILD WEST GIRL. Miss Irene Kelly caused quite a sensation as the "Wild West Girl," dressed in corduroy skirt, red shirt and sombrero. Her highwayman's mask and wicked revolver, completed her very fine disguise.

Miss Sue Carpenter as Carmenita was fascinating with black lace mantilla, red roses and black and white satin and spangled skirt.

"Little Bo-Peep," as exemplified by dainty little Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, was one of the taking figures on the floor. Her costume was of pale blue satin with broadened panthers, dainty lacey fichu, and a hat wreathed with flowers. Her fetching shepherd's crook completed the dainty make-up.

Miss Katherine Ridgeway was an East Indian girl with rich silver coat and yellow silken skirt wound with shawl, and about the hips, a silver cap of embroidery set jauntily upon her head.

Demure Miss Lucy Clark represented Bust Hart's "Her Letter." Her's was a quaint frock of pink, ruffled from foot to waist; a fetching hat with wreaths of flowers and plumes completed the costume, with which she carried a prim nosegay of roses.

ROD TRAIL ENDS, OFFICERS PRESS ON.

Posse After Santa Monica
Gang of Robbers.

Them Sorely Wounded and Traced to Can-mouth by Splashes of Gore on Ground—Cries Hearl by Mountain Ranchman's Wife Morning.

At 3 o'clock this morning, and immediately reported to Sheriff's office from Port Los Angeles, that the robbers are on one of the channel islands or in the vicinity of Ventura or Los Angeles.

Officers found that the trail of blood—which had seemingly in the middle of the railroad track—led to the cabin of some fisherman near the mouth of Santa Monica Cañon; that these men had been in their gasoline launch yesterday morning before they returned before noon without fish, and with no evidence of any fish.

It has been reached that the robbers either compelled the Japanese to carry them to one of the islands up the coast beyond the mountains and toward Hueneme mouth. There they could easily make their way to a train and escape.

Others are following this clue, and early this morning the Sheriff of Ventura county and his deputies, and the police of Los Angeles will be on the lookout for the fugitives. It is not known whether the robbers will be found in the Santa Monica Mountains.

There is good reason in the opinion of the officers to believe that the robbers had planned on one route for the city if things went well, and if they did not go well to seek a rendezvous.
That they have been compelled to take this latter course and are in hiding probably without food or stimulants is looked upon as likely.

For this reason mounted men scoured the country from the beach back toward the hills, searching many cabins and asking information from every ranchero. The only bit of this looking at all tangible came from the Bowers place on the north side of Santa Monica Cañon. Mrs. Bowers, at 3 o'clock in the morning heard a series of cries—they sounded like the voice of a man in great distress. Whether they were from the wounded man or not could not be verified in any wise by surrounding circumstances.

DETERMINED POSSE.
At the head of this posse of men yesterday was Martin Aguirre from Sheriff Haggen's office co-operating with Marshal M. K. Barretto of Santa Monica. With Aguirre were Deputy Sheriff Claude Maynew, Jailer Tom Quinn, Deputy Marshals Ramsey and Randall of Santa Monica, Constable Steve Jackson, Deputy Constable W. D. Reynolds, Detectives John W. Murphy and Benedict of Los Angeles and Deputy Game Warden Harry Pritchard. Quinn's ankle was sprained last night and he had to come back.

During yesterday afternoon these men went along the beach line, where Benedict and Murphy found a revolver shell, but no other signs.

NEW STRIKE AT BATOPILAS.
BOSTON, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Letters received at the eastern office of the Batopilas Mining Company from Mazatlan, Mex., Shoppard says that in the cross-cut on the 400-foot level the canal or hanging vein disclosed ore running 800 ounces silver for a width of twenty feet, so far as opened.

The seismographs at the observatory at Laibach, Austria, have since February 9 registered a strong earth unrest which seems to be connected with a cyclone in Southern Italy and Malta.
Prof. Belar says the continued unrest may result in further earthquakes in the near future.

CONVALESCENTS
A member of the Owl Drug Company, says: "There is just one thing the matter with a person who has been sick—that is, weakness."
"To all such people in Los Angeles we recommend our delicious cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, as the very best strength creator for convalescents we have ever sold in our store."
"Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates an appetite, promotes sound sleep, makes rich, red blood, and builds up a depleted system to health and vigor."
"This is because Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal and strength creating elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod's livers, with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added."

"We return money to those who buy Vinol and receive no benefit."
The Owl Drug Co., 320 S. Spring st.
Note.—While we are sole agents for the Vinol in Los Angeles, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country.
Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

ROBBERS SIZED UP.
Four men were directly implicated in the attempted postoffice safe robbery at Santa Monica early yesterday morning. One of the four is a widely-known eastern crook, skilled in the use of explosives and drills. Of the remaining three, two are probably the pair who lived in the house at Santa Monica.

OFFICER A. R. DUNHAM,
Santa Monica postoffice robber, standing in front of a window bullet went, just above the word "Jones." The postoffice shown in the lower picture, the cross on the awning indicating where the duel was fought early yesterday morning. A bullet from Dunham's modest report to the Santa Monica Police Department shown.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

SEES DOCKING OTHER WAY.

PASADENA HUMANE SOCIETY FAVORS BILL.

Take View That Law Against Abusing Horses' Tails May Be Violated by Taking Them Out of the State for the Operation and Bringing Them in Afterward.

Office of The Times, No. 215, Raymond Ave., Pasadena, Feb. 12.—The Pasadena Humane Society has taken issue with the question of docking the tails of horses, and will use its influence to secure the passage of the Curtin Bill. The society will probably be sent to the Governor and to the Legislature asking that the measure be passed in its present form.

The Humane Society takes the stand that as long as it is possible to bring horses having docked tails into the State, it will be impossible to put a stop to the practice of docking, owing to the fact that any owner can send his horse out of the State, have their tails cut off, and have them shipped back again. It is claimed that the subterfuge has been used on several occasions by local horse owners, and that in this manner the law forbidding the cutting short of a horse's caudal appendage is circumvented.

Dr. Medico de Bion, a member of the Humane Society, is in favor of the Curtin Bill and hopes that it will be passed. "It seems to me that it is about the only way to stop the practice of docking," said he yesterday. "I do not believe in docking horses, and I am in favor of having any law passed which will effectively put an end to it. California is essentially the home of the horse, and very few of our domestic animals are docked. Readers are not necessarily docked, neither are hunters or other saddle horses, and whatever the momentary inconvenience may be, I believe that it will be more than made up in the end. There is certainly nothing more pleasing to see than a horse with a handsome flowing tail."

John Bakewell Phillips has taken considerable interest in the argument and has expressed his views on the subject in a very pronounced manner. He believes that the law, with certain modifications, would be a good thing and would like to see it passed, although he does not believe in taking any ill-adviced action.

"I do not believe in the docking of horses," said Mr. Phillips. "and I should like to see a stop put to the practice. I do not think that we should allow the question of financial gain to come up in such a matter, and I should be very sorry to have any of us refrain from doing what we thought to be right just because we might lose money thereby. The argument has been advanced that the docking of horses with docked tails would hamper the tourist trade and I should be sorry to sacrifice the principles of humanity simply to induce people to come here. However, I have not seen a copy of the law and should not care to pass any definite opinion until I have had the chance to read it."

Mrs. Elizabeth Grinnell is in favor of the passing of the law. She expressed herself very strongly in the matter and stated that she thought it necessary to pass some law, such as the Curtin Bill, in order to put an end to the practice. "In spite of the laws there are undoubtedly much docking going on," said Mrs. Grinnell, "and I certainly believe that more drastic action is necessary."

RAAB IS FINED. Carl Raab of the Raab Creamery Company was fined $100 Monday afternoon by Justice McDonald for allowing milk in dirty bottles. It was announced that the case would be brought back, but when the first charge was decided against the defendant he pleaded guilty to the second and was fined an additional $25 as a reminder that the officials intend to enforce the law.

One of the strongest witnesses for the prosecution was Councilman Crandall. He photographed the dirty bottles at the time that the milk was being poured by the health department and identified them in court. Raab was forced to admit that the bottles had been dirty, but insisted that it could only have been an isolated bottle or two that escaped the eagle eye of the inspector.

LOCAL TALENT HISTORIC. The auditorium of the Shakespeare Clubhouse was the scene of a brilliant gathering last evening when the members of the Valley Hunt Club and more than one hundred of their friends met to witness a "Modern Comedy of Errors" as presented by the club. Miss Anne Kavanagh acted as stage manager and the details of the entertainment were arranged by Mrs. and Mr. A. Stevens Halsted, and Mrs. L. B. Winslow.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

CITY TRUSTEES MAKE PROTEST. COLTON MAN SHOT ON TRAIN.

OBJECT TO THE PENDING BILL FIXING MINIMUM WAGE. ACCIDENT OCCURS ON SANTA FE LIMITED.

In Resolutions Riverside Board Declares That Three Dollars a Day Is Too Much to Pay Laborers on Municipal Work—Legislature Urged Not to Pass Measure.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 12.—Vigorous protest was made by the City Trustees today against the measure pending before the State Legislature, fixing $3 a day as the minimum wage of laborers employed on municipal work. Much of this work is done by cholo, and the members of the board feel that the present rate of $2 a day is all that the work of these laborers is worth. This resolution was passed by unanimous vote.

Resolved, further, that we respectfully urge the Assemblyman from this State, fixing the minimum wages to be paid to all employees of municipal corporations at $2 per day, should be defeated, for the reasons that if said bill becomes a law it would greatly increase the burden of taxation, restrict very greatly all public improvements, especially the opening of streets, and would tend to bar the further acquisition and operation of public utilities, and.

"Resolved, further, that we respectfully urge the Assemblyman from this State, in the event of the passage of said bill by the Legislature, to veto the same."

A preliminary move toward the improvement of the athletic playground and school park, donated by S. C. Evans for the use of the children of the city, was taken today, when the commissioners in charge of the proposed park reported to the City Trustees an outline of the plans made for putting the grounds in shape. The City Engineer was instructed to make an estimate of the cost of the contemplated improvements and also to survey the grounds.

The park includes about ten acres, conveniently located near the corner of Broadway and Fourteenth street. It is proposed to inclose it with a board fence, ornamented with trees, and to prepare a place where the boys and girls of the city schools may engage in outdoor sports and amusements.

PROPOSED AUTO ORDINANCE.
The attention of the City Trustees has been called to the fact that the dripping of gasoline from automobiles not provided with drip pans is doing injury to the asphalt pavements at the corners where the "bums" wagon stand. The gasoline is acting as a solvent, disintegrating the asphalt. It also complained that it has a similar effect on the concrete sidewalks. The complaint has been referred to the City Attorney for an opinion as to the proper action to be taken.

MULES DROWNED.
Animals crowded into Reservoir. Farmers' Club-Ballot for Minister-Acreage Sale.

CORONA, Feb. 12.—A span of mules were drowned yesterday in the irrigating reservoir on the Ben White ranch in the foothills. Several teams were being used in completing the dam and in making the turn two of the mules were crowded off the embankment. The mules sank at once and the weight of the water, which went down with them, prevented their rescue.

FARMERS' CLUB MEETING.
The Farmers' Club met last evening at H. D. Summerville's, and discussed "How to Prevent Stealing of Fruit." Musical numbers were given by Miss Anna Platt, Mrs. George Anderson, W. C. Barth and Miss Bethel Barth.

BALLOT FOR MINISTER.
Sunday morning the Congregational Church members voted on two ministers, Rev. Mr. Hoyt of Pomona and Rev. Mr. Musgrave of Redondo. It was decided that a two-thirds majority should decide, but as the vote lacked one of being a tie, another candidate, Rev. D. B. Naylor of Hayward, will be asked to preach Sunday.

SAN JACINTO FLOW BIG.
Stream Has a Large Volume but Keeps to its Bed—Heat Hurries Vegetation.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 12.—The San Jacinto River, had a large volume of water since the beginning of the overflow of the Hemet dam, a week ago. People do not expect such floods as there were last year when a stupendous amount of water poured over the dam, at the time of spring rains, and the melting of a season's snows. This year the melting of snow has been gradual. The river bed has been deepened and so far the stream keeps to its bed.

BLAZE AT ANAHEIM.
ANAHEIM, Feb. 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The residence of Theo. Rimpau, at the corner of Broadway and Palm street, was partly destroyed by fire tonight. The loss is estimated at $5000, and is partly covered by insurance. Most of the furniture was saved. The fire was caused by the crowing of electric wires. While the building was burning it is reported that burglars attempted to enter one of two residences in another part of the

TO PROBE MISSIONS.

Commission of Business Men Is Appointed to Investigate Administration of Establishments.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.) NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—At a dinner given last night at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel under the auspices of the laymen's missionary movement, former Mayor Lowe disclosed the purpose of that organization. In view, he said, of the vast amount of money contributed every year in the United States for foreign missions the utility of which has been challenged, he proposed to strengthen the missionary cause and develop cooperation between the different churches.

A commission of business men who have been for years contributors to the foreign cause, is being appointed. They will leave at an early date to make personal inspection of the various missionary establishments throughout the world. Among the subjects to be investigated are the number of converts, the number of genuine transformations of character, instances of persecution, devotion and sacrifice and contributions of natives.

It was also proposed to investigate whether the money and accounts are handled in a business way whether the missionaries are being effectively reached, to examine the present missionary equipment and to report on any additional money in the way of workers or equipment.

WOULD SEPARATE SEXES.
Churchmen Say Manly Young Men Cannot Study Bible Properly If "Bonnets" Are Near.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Feb. 12.—Advocating the separation of the sexes in the formation of church organizations and strenuously condemning the boarding-school landladies of Chicago because of their disregard of ecclesiastical conventions, Andrew Stevenson, president of the Young Men's Presbyterian Union of Chicago, has caused a sensation during his address to the convention of the Pittsburgh Presbytery in session here in reference to the young men's organizations. Mr. Stevenson said:

"The spirit of organization has reached the young women and they are forming Bible organizations. But in some way you cannot appeal to manly young men if you have a lot of bonnets around. Therefore I would not advise the formation of classes consisting of both sexes."

Mr. Stevenson said the greatest need of Chicago is the right kind of boarding-houses. "In our city," he said, "our landladies usually take no interest in church work. They are positively detrimental to the morals of their boarders."

INVEST IN STEEL STOCKS.
"Whenever my friends or any one else comes to me nowadays for tips" or "inside" information concerning the best class of stocks or securities to buy for the "biggest future profits," he replied one of Los Angeles' oldest and wealthiest stock operators last evening, "my answer invariably is 'buy steel stocks and buy them quick.'"

There is going to be more money made out of steel within the next two to five years than from any other industry in the world. The annual profits from copper and steel have been running a close race recently for supremacy, but steel is only a question of a short time before it will best its competitor and lead all other industries in the world in point of earning capacity.

"The city of Los Angeles," he continued, "hasn't any steel companies of its own, but there are several new corporations just starting plants in the East, and you can safely bet that the people there are climbing over one another to put their money into them. It is going to be the new companies just starting that will make fortunes for those who invest now, and not so much the stock of those already in operation and formed some time ago, for the reason that the capitalization of nearly all of the old companies was either made too large at the commencement or else watered until, even when the yearly earnings are enormous, the percentage of profit paid on the capitalization is so small that the stockholders receive very moderate dividends. The new companies being formed with a low capitalization are the ones to go into. Their stock, bought now at the first price offered, should within the next year or two show an almost fabulous increase in value. In fact, I feel sure that I have an investment of a few hundred dollars in some of these companies just forming will eventually be worth a fortune to more than one person. I know of two companies preparing to operate plants that have more orders for steel already on hand than they can possibly fill in a year, and I don't mind telling you that I have put quite a few hundred dollars into them myself, with the expectation that they will earn more money for me in the same length of time than any of my other investments, excepting none."

"Would I mind giving you the name of any particular company in which I think you could make a 'killing' in a short time? Well, no, I don't object to giving a 'tip,' seeing that it is you, although I am not boosting the stock of any particular company. There is a recently formed Eastern corporation with a new process for making steel that is looking for something good. If you have some about a little you will have no trouble in learning the name of the one I mean, because it is the only one of the new companies that has exclusive control of a patented process which reduces the cost of making steel over the old way."

"You want to know now, I suppose, why I think that an investment in steel is the best on the market. Well, I will tell you without you asking. In the first place more steel is now being used in the erection of buildings than ever before. I not only base my opinion on this fact but also because nearly every railroad of any prominence in the country has set orders for more steel improvements than ever before in the history of railroading. It is going to require more steel to fill these demands than all of the old companies at present in existence and the new ones now being formed can supply in five years to come."

a safe and sure specific for rheumatism

Guaranteed under Food and Drug Act of June 30th, 1906, serial number 3517. Rheumatism for the most part attacks the sinews and muscles of the body. Therefore the joints, the muscle casings and heart valves suffer most. Like gout this disease is caused by an excess of uric acid or blood poison in the system. Rheumatic pains sometimes change their location; wander from one part of the body to another, and visit various joints in succession. The nature of this painful disease is still a matter of opinion, but certain remedies have been discovered that produce immediate and lasting relief, and many times a permanent cure. Probably the most important discovery made in this connection is the famous prescription from Dr. Edward's Compound Dandelion Tablets are prepared. Thousands of people have used this wonderful remedy for rheumatism and are now well and happy. It will pay you to get a box today.

If at First You Don't Succeed— Buy Brick Stock

The beginning of this week witnessed a very remarkable sale of this stock, not only in the quantity of shares sold, but in the circumstances of the sales made. In fifty per cent. of the cases the buyers were parties who had previously inquired regarding this stock, but were led away temporarily into alluring speculations, returning finally to the safe, conservative paths of legitimate investment offered in the stock of the United States Granite Pressed Brick Company. Any careful observer of business conditions cannot but realize the superiority of a business like this, to any form of speculation. In the brick industry there is no element of chance. The demand is unquestioned and the profits are large and immediate. The only question in the mind of the investor is as to our ability to produce the quality and the quantity of brick we claim and at the price we claim. On this point we are able to satisfy the most exacting inquiry. Make it your business to put us to the test. Come in and see for yourself the foundation of our claims and you will end by buying a block of this stock.

We Control Enough Raw Material For a Hundred Years
We have secured the granite deposit in the Tu Junga Valley. It is already broken by nature into convenient sizes for handling, eliminating the usual expense incident to industries of this character. It can be transported at slight cost to our crusher and factory at 16th and Alameda streets, now in course of construction. By our process, we can turn out 20,000 fine, pressed granite bricks every working day of the year. This is a steady, sure output. The price of pressed brick ranges from $35 to $60 a thousand, and an eager market awaits the handsome and superior brick we make. The cost of our product is $7 a thousand. We could afford to sell it at $25 a thousand and clear a profit of $18 a thousand or $360 a day. This is a ratio of profit rarely possible in a manufacturing business, and when it is considered that there are only 25,000 shares all told, it must be apparent that the earnings of each individual share are genuine and substantial.

Most Perfect Pressed Brick Made
This brick has been tried and tested for many years. The German and British governments have used it with gratifying results. The army department of the United States have preferred it on government work. Practical as well as laboratory tests have shown it to have greater crushing strength, more transverse resistance and a lower absorption percentage than any other kind of pressed brick made. It has smoother surfaces, sharper edges, lays faster and needs less mortar than any other brick. Walls in which it is used present a handsomer surface. Wherever it has been adopted it has immediately commanded the admiration of architects, builders and contractors, and springs so rapidly into public favor that the factory facilities demand frequent extension.

ADDRESS

A Clear-Cut Business Proposition
Purchasers of this stock enter upon a clear, profitable investment. It is a well known fact that there is not a share for sale in any of the old brick concerns. Even by old-fashioned methods and high cost of production, enormous profits are realized in the brick business. With our process, and the low cost of raw material, the first cost of our brick is so low that even selling our output below the market price the margin of profit is enormous. Where the old method takes three weeks, we make pressed brick in 24 hours. The total cost of manufacture by our process is $7 a thousand or about one-third. As a steady, sure-paying investment, it has no equal on the coast. The stock is for sale in lots of 10 shares or more now at $7 a share. The price will advance on February 23 to $8, and from that time forward the advance to par will be a question of a short time only.

Don't Wait Till the Price Goes to $8. Buy Now at $7 While You Can
An investment made now while the price is low will return a steady dividend. In a business like this it does not take many shares to provide an income safe and substantial and free from all phases of speculation. Come in and see the brick, examine into our process and into the methods of the company and the character of the men behind it, and you will end as do all others, by purchasing all the stock you can afford to carry.

FROM POVERTY TO WEALTH

"The Delaware & Lackawanna Steel Company is going to get the PRIZE MONEY from the STATE. THERE IS NO WAITING. The company now has orders for steel on hand to overtake the entire capacity of the plant from the time the first wheel is turned and no member also that this company has a new process of making steel that reduces the cost just one-fifth over the methods employed by the other mills. This is a great thing for the company and for the stockholders. It means that the company will be able to produce steel at a lower cost than any other mill in the United States today."

WILL MAKE SENSATION.
Army Lieutenant Says He Was Jailed as Result of Conspiracy and Threats Exposures.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Feb. 12.—Former Lieut. Sidney S. Burbank was released from the Federal penitentiary here this morning after serving nearly fifteen months, and started for Indianapolis, where he will visit a brother for a few days.

Burbank talked with an Associated Press representative after he left the prison and took occasion to criticize the officers responsible for his conviction. Some time later he would be declared, make a statement regarding his arrest, would cause a sensation in army circles.
Burbank comes of a military family. His father and grandfather both have served in the United States army. His engagement in 1903 to a prominent young society woman of Leavenworth precipitated a suit by his Philippine wife, Mrs. Concepcion Vasquez of Valladolid, who formally filed her civil suit for abandonment and non-support. She finally was granted a separation, but not a divorce, and Burbank was ordered to pay her $50 a month alimony for the support of their child. Later Burbank was tried by court-martial and convicted of embezzling company funds and of conducting an unauthorized office and a gentleman.

LOYAL LEGION HONORS LINCOLN.

HIS NATAL DAY CHOSEN FOR THE ANNUAL BANQUET.

Notable Gathering of Army Officers, at the Social Meeting of the Southern California Association of Companions of the Great Military Order—Patriotic Toasts Responded to.

Moved by the spirit that kept the nation from melting away when heated by the passions of the Civil War a generation ago, the Loyal Legion met last night at its annual banquet at Levy's restaurant. There was a notable gathering of army officers present among the 125 guests, and it was fitting that they should assemble on the birthday of the great Lincoln, who saved up his life that a government of the people and by the people should not perish from the earth.

The banquet was the annual social meeting of the Commandery of California, and the Southern California Association of Companions of the Loyal Legion, and in honor of it Rear-Admiral O. W. Farnholt and Col. William R. Smedburg of the commandery came down from San Francisco, the local commanding officers also being present. Dozens of other distinguished army officers were there, and for the moment these sons of Mars forgot their calling in the delights of the festive board.

The menu was an appetizing one; and following it the programme of toasts was continued until long after "taps." Companion George H. Stewart acted as toastmaster, and the programme was as follows:

Song, "Star Spangled Banner;" "The President" Gen. John L. Beveridge; orchestral music, "Hail to the Chief;"
"The Absent" drunk in silence, "Lincoln," Capt. William J. McIntyre; "The Army," Lieut. Gen. A. R. Chaffee, U.
S.A.; song, "Marching Through Geo-gia;" "Our Navy," Rear-Admiral O. W.
Farnholt; "The Ladies," S. H.
French; song, "When This Cruel War
Is Over;" "Loyal Legion and Commandery of California," Col. W. A.
Smedburg; song, "The Loyal Legioneer," by Loyal Legion; song, "America," by the Loyal Legion and guests.

ELKS HAVE MERRY TIME.

Today Visitors Will Enjoy Auto Ride and Reception—Tomorrow They Go to Catalina.

The headquarters of the members of Lodge No. 83, the Salt Lake lodge of the Elks, at the King Edward Hotel, were crowded yesterday with friends of the visitors. Everything in connection with the big excursion has been most pleasant so far, and the members of the order are getting plenty of enjoyment out of their trip.

"Even the clerk of the weather seems to have his eye on us," said Exalted Ruler Thomas Homer last night. "Everything and everybody appears fine. There wasn't a hitch in any of the arrangements, there wasn't a moment during the whole trip when we weren't on schedule time until we hit San Bernardino."

"The Elks in San Bernardino and Beverly gave us a grand reception.
The Salt Lake people know how to run an excursion, too. We were organized into a small-sized municipality on the train, and a mayor thereof was compelled to conduct several leaves. Altogether we can't say enough for the trip, for the way we've been treated and for Southern California in general."

Five hundred people came on the excursion and about half of the number are Elks.
Last night a large number of the excursionists visited Chinatown. This evening the local lodge of Elks has planned a reception for the visiting Elks. This morning the entire party will be taken on a three-hour automobile ride through the city.

Tomorrow will be given over to a trip to Catalina, and on Friday the travelers will make a four-day excursion to San Diego.

Four rare paintings are now abandoned as lost in the fire by those who are restoring the art collection which was kept in the "Lynchburg," the country home of John Wamaker at Philadelphia, which was destroyed by fire last Friday night. The paintings, "Our
